

Ancient Greece

What is so important about Ancient Greece?

It was ruled by two cities Sparta and Athens which were at war sometimes. Sometimes they were allies against invaders.

Facts!

1. In the month before the ancient Olympics no wars were permitted, so that spectators could travel from across Greece unharmed.
2. Cities in Greece struggled to build subway systems because they kept digging ancient ruins.
3. In ancient Greece throwing an apple at someone meant to declare your love of them.

The Ancient Greece theatre

The theatre was everywhere because everyone loved the theatre and the story's.

When men wanted to be ladies on the theatre they wore masks.

People use to tell or sing the story's.

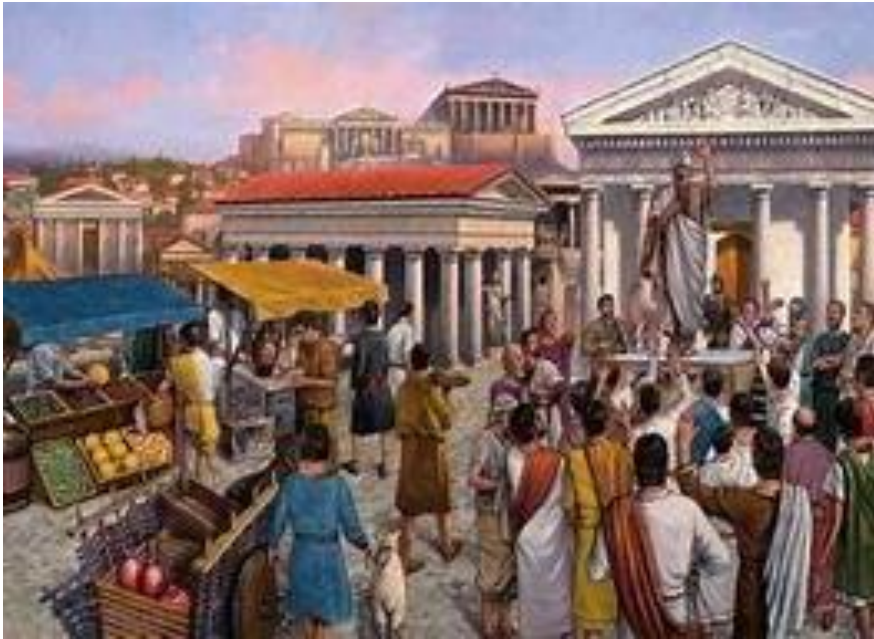

What did ancient Greece do for us?

They gave the world democracy, which we still use today.

They also gave us the Olympics games.

They also invented mathematics, science and sculptors.

They also used some of their knowledge to build awesome inventions like the water wheel & alarm clock.
