

Diary Plot Points – Day 1 (Wednesday)

(The different colours are shown in the diary entry example)

On the example, the date looks unusual because I chose a random date from the Mayan calendar – feel free to copy it or make one using your own numbers!

- Why am I hunting an animal? (this is the first part of the video that explains that warriors use the animal heads to show how good they are and the bigger/scarier the animal, the more respected the warrior is)
- Caught the little frog – then a cheeky monkey steals it!
- A massive tongue takes the monkey out of the tree – what does Toki think/feel about this?
- A massive chameleon appears – describe the chameleon

Diary Plot Points – Day 2 (Thursday)

- Describe the ride through the jungle and catching the different animals
- The chameleon is captured and the tribe are coming
- Letting him go and meeting him afterwards
